HUSSEY-BINNS EMPLOYES WILL RETURN TO WORK

Agreement Reached and Strikers Will Report for Duty

VOTE TAKEN AT MEETING

Misunderstandings Seem to Have Been Cause of the Whole Affair

After being on strike three days because of contentions with the factory head originating it seems from misunderstanding Hussey- Binns Shovel company employees will return to work Thursday morning. Terms have been reached by a committee from the workmen and Superintendent Frank M. Haines, all that was required being a little explanation on both sides. William Eckel, over whom the strike was declared because of his discharge from the position of foreman, will not be reinstated but it is expected the full force of men will return to their forges and tools. About the only tangible evidence of the strike is that of a union formed by the shovel workers at the instance of organizers in this vicinity. When it was reported that double time duty was to be required of the men rumors spread rapidly, it seems and Foreman Eckel's discharge lent them force This occasioned a strike. On Monday after the strike was clearly on a committee to interview the superintendent was appointed from the workmen. This committee has been practically in charge of the affair. With a little investigating, it is said, its members ascertained that misstatements had been made. Superintendent Haines told them plainly to set at rest their vague fears, that the men would not be put on double time to increase the capacity or decrease the expenses, and to prove his word was good offered to sign a yearly contract with any or all. As for the Eckel matter he stated that was really a private affair.

Tuesday afternoon the workmen held a meeting when a vote was taken to return to work, after full reports had been heard from the committee. Organizers John Ferry of Charleroi and William Burke of Pittsburg were present and also Thomas Flynn of the American Federation of Labor. The union will be affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and will be maintained. Mr. Flynn pointed out the advantages of being organized not for the purpose of fighting the employers, he said, but for the purpose of bettering conditions of the men and the factory owners. He said he believed that there would be much greater demand for shovels bearing the union stamp. Today is being occupied by Superintendent Haines in putting matters in shape for the return of the men Thursday morning.

Form Theatre Party.

A party of young women composed of members of the Bachelor Girl's Club are spending the afternoon and evening in Pittsburg and this evening they will form a theatre party to the Grand Theatre.

CLAIMS LIBRARY IS BENEFIT TO PUBLIC

North Charleroi Organization to Oppose Attempt of Borough to Collect Taxes From Them

MASTERPIECES THERE; UP TO THE PEOPLE TO READ

The Citizens Library Association of Fallowfield township, through its attorney has filed an answer to the suit of the Borough of North Charleroi to recover taxes for three years on property at North Charleroi. In the answer made by Richard A Roberts, president of the board of directors of the library association, he sets forth that the library is a charitable institution and has no right to pay taxes.

It is claimed in the answer of the library association that the library is maintained for the purpose of disseminating useful knowledge by means of a library, reading rooms, public lectures, literary exercises and entertainments. It has no capital stock and its members do not now nor ever have derived any profits from its business. Its earnings after deducting expenses, have always been applied and are now applied to the maintenance of the purpose for which it was created.

When the Citizens Library of Fallowfield township was incorporated in 1885, Lock No 4 was as a "Sweet Auburn, lovliest village of the plain," but in recent years it has become more like the "deserted village" so beautifully depicted by Oliver Goldsmith's poem. The town seems to be past that age when the citizens delighted in reading the world's masterpieces of literature and discussing the characters in literary societies; now it is the age of Nick Carter and how he looted the Moneyville bank, shooting the night watchman and how Frank Merriwell won the game for Fairhaven bl striking out 20 opposing batsmen.

For the entertainment and pleasure of the people the Citizens Library Association of Falowfield township was formed with John Conrad, of Lock No. 4; Thomas McGowan now deceased; Theodore J. Allen, formerly of Lock No. 4, but now of Charleroi, and C. B. Copeland, as incorporators. The association was incorporated under Judge George S. Hart in 1885. The first board of directors was composed of T. J. Allen, now of Charleroi; Samuel C. Swabe, now deceased; Thomas McGowan, now deceased; Smitth Colvin, now deceased; and Joseph R. Ryan, now deceased.

These men with a spirit of civic pride started the organization with a library of 574 volumes, principally the masterpieces of the world's literature. There was no charge made for the books and there was but a small charge for the use of the auditorium, just enough to cover the expenses of maintenance. Public spirited citizens that donated liberally to the asociation were elected as members of the association.

REPENTS OF HIS VISIT TO FARM

Charleroi Foreigner Promises Not to Go Back if Only Released

Thomas Petroshak, a foreigner of Charleroi repented for his misdeeds on the farm of I. V.Kinder near Charleroi, when he had suit brought against him by Warren Kinder fixed up Tuesday. The affair was terminated by an understanding reached at the county seat. Petroshak was released on probation after he had paid the costs of the affair, and agreed not to insert his unseemly presence upon the Kinder farm again otherwise the case would be opened up. The charge against him was maliciously pointing fire arms.

BENTLEYVILLE MAN OUT FOR CORONER

In this issue appears the announcement of Hudson C. Crouch of Bentleyville, who is announced as a Republican candidate for the office of county corner.

Mr. Crouch has held a responsible position with the Miners Supply company No 3 for more than two years and has severed his connections and will spend the next six weeks looking after Republican votes. He has a wide acquaintance, having been in the hotel business for over twenty years and will be remembered by the merchants and business men of Washington county as Mercantile Appraiser, six years ago. Mr. Crouch has been a life long Republican, is a man of mature years and fair judgment. As the time is short he will not be able to meet all of his friends, personally but he wishes to be remembered at the primaries on September 30. If nominated and elected he promises to fill the office honestly and to the best of his ability.

The petition filed by Mr. Crouch contained the names of sixty prominent residents of his home town.

Misses Helen and Lottie Michiner, Minnie and Elizabeth Elliott, Adele Heupel, Jessie and Anna Watson, Mary Glunt and Bethel Bowman have gone to Bentleyville where they will spend two weeks' at the campground.

ANNIVERSARY IS CELEBRATED

Charleroi Members of Protected Home Circle Take Trip to McKeesport

A number of members of Charleroi Circle, No. 303, Protected Home Circle made a trip to McKeesport in celebration of the silver anniversary of the founding of the order Tuesday evening, where they were royally entertained by the members of the Vigilant lodge at the latter place.

Leaving Charleroi at 5 o'clock on cars to Monessen the party smaller than was expected, owing to the threatening weather, took the 6 o'clock train at Monessen and arrived in McKeesport just in time for the beginning of a special program which was arranged there. The Charleroi circle members were augmented by a number of Monesser and Donora people. Grand lodge officers were present and a musical and literary program was rendered.

STORES ALL CLOSED AND PEOPLE ARE AT THE PARK

Last Meeting is Postponed

School Board Prepared for Opening of Schools Latter Part of Month

There were not enough members present at the scheduled meeting of the Charleroi School board Tuesday evening and a postponement of what would probably have been the last session before the beginning of school was made necessary. Prof. James G. Pentz is now getting matters in shape for school to begin. He will have some announcements to make within a few days. The teachers' examination was given Tuesday at School hall and there were six teachers took them.

STILL HAVE HOPES FOR BOULEVARD

Thought That River Road Will be Among First Taken Up

OVER THE NATIONAL PIKE

Charleroi and Monongahela valley people generally are still of the belief that a river boulevard will be one of the early matters considered by Commissioner E. M. Bigelow of the State Highway department. The river boulevard as outlined in the comprehensive State plan is the heart's desire of the people who reside along the valley and the State engineers realize it's need.

Commissioners Bigelow was in Washington and Fayette counties this week. He did not investigate all of the proposed river boulevard route, but it is stated he will return at a later date to go over it.

While at Washington and Uniontown he mentioned the need of improvement of the national pike and it is likely this will be among the first work to be done by the State. With Commissioner Bigelow on his trip are a number of State engineers who will have charge of the construction work on the new roads.

TENDERED SURPRISE ON HER BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Joseph Mounchecourt was tendered a pleasant surprise Tuesday evening in honor of her birthday. Gathering at her home on Third street her friends suddenly made themselves known. Recovering from her astonishment caused by the sudden appearance of so many of her close friends Mrs. Mounchecourt proved a charming hostess. Diversions were provided in the way of music, dancing and euchre. Beautiful favors were awarded.

Business Suspended by Reason of Business Men's Picnic

MITCHELL ROASTS THE OX

"Critter" Duly Prepared for Onslaught of Hungry Picnicers

Charleroi presents a deserted appearance today. Stores are closed and with the business men and their friends at their annual picnic at Eldora Park there is an entire suspension of trade. It is a day of enjoyment and one which the business men are taking full advantage of.

True to his word the weather man provided the proper kind of weather. Neither too cool nor excessively warm the weather is "just right" and makes a day at the park all the more to be enjoyed.

Thomas Mitchell the well known caterer of Washington, who by the way is a candidate for county commissioner arrived on the scene last night to roast the ox in preparation for the onslaught of hungry picnicers today. About noon the principal part of the crowd began to arrive and fill the park.

Candidates from all over the county, in response to a special invitation from the Charleroi business men, with affable smiles and ready hand-shakes, are there circulating among the voters. They too are to come in for their share of the ox and the hunger of candidates is proverbial.

This afternoon the sports and trapeze performance will be features. Of course the park amusements, the roller coaster, the merry-go-round and the bamboo slide will prove attractive to the wives and children of the business men, as well as the business men themselves and their friends.

The picnic is an annual event held by the Charleroi Business Men's association at Eldora Park, and this year's affair promises to eclipse any previous event.

FRICK ENGINEERS GET SEND-OFF

In honor of the H. C. Frick civil engineers employed in this section, a picnic was given at Eldora Park Tuesday evening by a number of Charleroi young women. The party left for the park on the 6:15 car, taking along baskets of dainties prepared by the young women. A picnic supper was served. The evening was spent "tripping the light fantastic" and the roller coaster came into large demand also. Those composing the party were Misses Zellers, Mangan, Dainty, Wilson and Calvert of Charleroi, Miss Elliott of Monessen and Miss Mame Thornton of Brownsville. The young engineers in the party were Messrs Thompson, Wahbeshav, King, Jenkins, Trout, Finch, Patterson and Smith. The engineering corps which has been stationed here for some time will leave this vicinity soon.

PERSONAL CITIZENSHIP.

It has been remarked that Rev. Billy Sunday's great success in converting men at his revivals lies in his ability to impress his hearers with their personal responsibility for the sins and evils that exist. The comfortable, well-to-do citizen, who never attends the suggestion caucus or the primary elections, deplores municipal misgovernment and the evil conditions that grow out of it, but he seldom realizes that he and his class alone are responsible for the civic and social evils that exist. Ministers of the gospel can preach about Christian citizenship and civic duty in the abstract way indefinitely without arousing their hearers to a sense of responsibility, but when a preacher of forceful bearing and fearless nature hurls accusations into the teeth of his hearers, which the latter know to be true, and drives the statement home with the awful consequences, then his auditors sit up and take notice.

It is well for every citizen to remember his personal responsibility. It is the indifference of the busy respectable class that permits the rule and conduct of municipalities to pass into the hands of the corrupt and crooked. It is also well to remember that pretty near all the cities get exactly the kind of government they want, and if conditions are bad it is because they are permitted to be so by the citizens of that community. Charleroi will elect four councilmen and seven school directors this fall, and it is incumbent upon all good citizens of all parties to see to it that good men are placed in nomination. Then, whichever the way the elections go there can be no fears as to the future conduct of these important branches of local government.

SAW WOOD.

It is pretty evident that from this time on the industrial and social welfare of the country must depend upon individual action. Policies, issues and great questions whose settement is designed to produce changes and affect large elements of the people may be said to no longer exist, or to have been threshed out to exhaustion, so that practically nothing in the way of National questions remain for the people to solve except their individual salvation and welfare.

That being the case it is the duty of each individual to say nothing and saw wood. With each person going ahead and doing the best he or she can, determined to work out their own salvation instead of waiting, agitating and hoping for some one else to help them along on the way, a better order of affairs will prevail. The motto for each to follow is, do not wait for someone else to do something but do something yourself. Do the things that are at hand and do them well, and then look for something else to do. It will be surprising with such effort how readily opportunities present themselves. There's lots of ground yet to cultivate, waste resources to be utilized, as well as wasteful habits and indolence to be avoided. When the whole population with one impulse begins to say nothing and saw wood, one of those waves of National prosperity that from time to time sweep the country will have been started. The only thing for each and every one to do now is to saw wood.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"I was at Cape May a few years ago spending the season," said a Charleroi citizen in a conversation where politics was the topic, "and I saw a sample of how they do things down in Jersey. While I was there the municipal election was held, and I got to know a lot of 'the boys' at a cigar store where the politicians as well as many of the male guests of the town loafed. The proprietor of the cigar store was one of the political leaders and the next day after election I noticed a long string of negroes filing in the front door of the store and passing out the back door.

"'What are these fellows doing here?' I asked.

"'Geting their pay,' the proprietor replied.

"'Pay, for what?'

"'For election. If things go all right we line them up after the election and pay them a dollar each. If things go wrong they get nothing. We never pay for work until the goods are delivered.'"

"While I was spending my vacation up State a funny incident occurred," remarked a well known resident the other day. "I was invited to the house of an old-time acquaintance for dinner, and just before the meal was announced a former acquaintance of the host, who was visiting in the community, dropped in. The latter who was a middle aged man had left the country for the west a number of years ago, and this was the first visit east since his departure He proved to be hard of hearing, and conversation was exceedingly difficult. Of course the host insisted on the caller staying for dinner, and after we were seated the host said:

"'Mr——, will you ask a blessing?'

"'Hey?' the visitor queried.

"'Will you ask a blessing?' the host repeated.

"'You'll have to speak a little louder,' was the reply, 'I'm so d—— deaf that I can't hear a word unless you holler.'

"It is needless to say that the request was adroitly switched to a remark about the weather."

DISSERTATION ON THE SHIRT

Writer Uncorks Vials of Wrath in a Few Indictments of Uncomfortable Modern Garment.

The onward march of civilization has its obstacles.

Shirts being made for man and not man for shirts, every time a man gets a new shirt or one comes back from the laundry the moral uplift needs the application of the safety brake and the emergency clutch to keep us from dropping into the cellar again.

Shirts are made of various kinds of materials. After the sewing is finished they are left for a few hours in a strong mixture of glue and concrete This fastens the back to the bosom, and sticks the sleeves together. Buttonholes are then made in the neckband, and the band is then steeped in cement so that the buttonholes cannot be opened. The bosom is then adorned with buttons. These buttons are sewed on with one weak thread, so that when you try to button the shirt, after having pried it apart with a paper knife and strong language, the buttons will fly away merrily.

Shirts that are laundered are always sent back with the lower button buttoned in, and all the buttonholes glued tight.

Dress shirts are made with veneered bosoms, with little round holes where the studs are only supposed to be placed. These bosoms are absolutely inflexible, and the studs cannot be inserted without the aid of a sledge hammer, which is damaging to the disposition.

The man who will invent a buttonless shirt, which cannot be starched in the neckband, will earn a monument which will be illuminated at night.—Chicago Evening Post.

THERE THE SAUSAGE IS HOLY

Highest Aim of Good German Is to Evolve a New Brand of "Wurst."

While in this country one may purchase many varieties of sausage, it is to Westphalia, Prussia, that we must look for the sausage in all its glory, says Harper's Weekly. There, it is said, a trader will name you no fewer than four hundred different kinds, and they present a bewildering array of divers substances in their composition.

At a German sausage exhibition held not so long ago at Berne, in Switzerland, there were displayed 1,785 kinds of sausage from various countries. It is said that a good German would rather invent a new sausage than anything else. At any rate there is told the story of the young Prussian who, though he had received an expensive training as a chemist, shut himself up in his laboratory and, instead of devising a new dye, safety match, motor engine, explosive, aeroplane or photographic lens, took pork, veal, olives, pepper, fennel, old wine, cheese, apples, cinnamon and herrings' roes, and from them evolved a wonderful and totally original "wurst," the best of its kind. He has amassed a considerable fortune from its sale.

Sherbet at Its Best.

A sherbet made of extract of violets was much esteemed in the east, and Mohammed is reported to have said of it that it surpassed all other extracts. In some part of Europe it is customary to mingle violets, roses, and lime blossoms with preserves to add a flower element to the fruity flavor. In Egypt and Turkey violets are used in making sherbets as mint is employed in juleps in Kentucky.

They Insisted on Brevity.

The Spartans were distinguished for the brevity and conciseness of their speech. On one occasion during a terrible famine the inhabitants of an island in the Aegean sea sent an ambassador to Sparta, who made a speech imploring its aid. He had hardly finished before the Spartans sent him back these words, "We did not understand the end of your speech and have forgotten the beginning."

The poor, starving people chose another spokesman and impressed upon him to make his request as brief as possible. He therefore took with him a quantity of sacks, opened one before the assembly and said simply, "It is empty; fill it."

The sack was filled as well as the others, but the chief of the assembly said as he dismissed the ambassador, loaded with meal: "It wasn't necessary to inform us that the sack was empty. We saw it ourselves. Neither was it necessary to request us to fill it. We should have done it on our own account. Be less long winded next time."

Just What He Wanted.

The superintendent of the capitol and its grounds at Washington was walking along one of the corridors in the house office building one day when a greenhorn congressman, stewing with rage, grabbed him by the sleeve.

"What's the matter?" asked the superintendent, observing the man's emotion.

"Matter!" shouted the congressman. "Why, when I went into my office last evening there was a brand new typewriter on the desk. Now it's gone. You've got a lot of thieves around here."

The official walked into the office and without a word lifted the trap cabinet of the desk and brought the typewriter into view.

"Fine!" commented the congressman. "Now, have you got a place like that in here for my use when troublesome constituents knock on the door?"—Washington Star.

Punctuation In Piano Playing.

A joke is going the rounds of the press about the girl whose music teacher wished to compliment her, but of whom he could only say that she played the rests excellently. This is, however, real praise of a sort, for it is not every young student of music who is careful about playing the rests well. Indeed, a great many players seem to forget that the rests are just as much of the piece as is the punctuation in a sentence. Nowadays people do not put in so much punctuation as they used to do, but the pauses in the voice are there just the same and are readily understood by good readers and always regarded. The rests in music are like the pauses in reading that are needed to give expression to the sentences. If the player slights the rests or extends them too long the whole effect of the musical sentence is spoiled.—Christian Science Monitor.

Feet Versus the Pen.

In speaking of personal recollections of Dion Boucicault, Henry Miller dwells upon his superb skill as a stage director and tells of the following incident, which occurred during his first rehearsal under Boucicault:

"I went to him direct from Augustin Daly's management. Daly coached his players to cross and recross the stage during the progress of the play, with the idea that this continual moving about of the actors created dramatic action. During my first rehearsal I made a 'Daly cross' as I spoke one of my lines.

"'Why did you do that?' Boucicault asked in his quaint, quizzical manner.

"I explained that I imagined it would keep the scene moving.

"'Thanks, my boy,' said Boucicault dryly, 'but if I cannot interest the audience with my pen I don't think you can with your feet.'"

Bulldogs and Bulls.

Bulldog is so called because of his native antipathy to the bull. A thoroughbred bull pup as young as six months the first time he beholds a bull will run at the head, which is his invariable point of attack, and, seizing the horned beast by the lip, tongue or eye, hang on despite every attempt to detach him. The dog will even suffer himself to be killed or dismembered rather than relax his hold.—New York Telegram.

Protest.

"I beg pardon," said the new arrival, "but it seems to me it's excessively warm here."

"Eh! What?" snorted Satan. "Evidently you forget where you are. This place is meant to be warm."

"Quite so, but there's such a thing as overdoing it."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Young Girl's Brave Act.

Remarkable bravery and presence of mind were displayed lately by Gwennie Franklin, aged 16, of New York, when she saved two boys from being burned to death. Half a dozen youngsters bedecked in war costumes of Indians were playing around a "council fire" in a vacant lot when George McCullough, aged six, got too close to the fire, and his clothes became ignited. His brother, Alexander, a year older, tried to beat out the flames and the fire spread to his clothing. The girl leaning out of the window of her home saw the accident, and the two brothers rolling on the ground. She ran out of doors, leaped over a fence and holding first one boy and then the other, heaped sand over them till the fire was extinguished. Both boys were unconscious, but not seriously injured.

Proposed amendments to the Constitution submitted to the citizens of this Commonwealth for their approval or rejection, by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and published by order of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, in pursuance of Article XVIII of the Constitution.

Number One.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, so as to consolidate the courts of common pleas of Allegheny County.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby, proposed, in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:—

That section six of article five be amended, by striking out the said section, and inserting in place thereof the following:

Section 6. In the county of Philadelphia all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the district courts and courts of common pleas, subject to such changes as may be made by this Constitution or by law, shall be in Philadelphia vested in five distinct and separate courts of equal and co-ordinate jurisdiction, composed of three judges each. The said courts in Philadelphia shall be designated respectively as the court of common pleas number one, number two, number three, number four, and number five, but the number of said courts may be by law increased from time to time, and shall be in like manner designated by successive numbers. The number of judges in any of said courts, or in any county where the establishment of an additional court may be authorized by law, may be increased, from time to time, and whenever such increase shall amount in the whole to three such three judges shall compose a distinct and separate court as aforesaid, which shall be numbered as aforesaid. In Philadelphia all suits shall be instituted in the said courts of common pleas without designating the number of the said court, and the several courts shall distribute and apportion the business among them in such manner as shall be provided by rules of court, and each court, to which any suit shall be thus assigned, shall have exclusive jurisdiction thereof, subject to change of venue, as shall be provided by law.

In the county of Allegheny all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the several numbered courts of common pleas shall be vested in one court of common pleas, composed of all the judges in commission in said courts. Such jurisdiction and powers shall extend to all proceedings at law and in equity which shall have been instituted in the several numbered courts, and shall be subject to such changes as may be made by law, and subject to change of venue as provided by law. The president judge of said court shall be selected as provided by law. The number of judges in said court may be by law increased from time to time. This amendment shall take effect on the first day of January succeeding its adoption.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to section eight, article nine, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:—

Amendment to Article Nine, Section Eight.

Section 2. Amend section eight, article nine, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:—

"Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law, but any city, the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of such assessed valuation, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum, in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation," so as to read as follows:—

Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law, but any city, the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of such assessed valuation, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum, in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation, except that any debt or debts hereinafter incurred by the city and county of Philadelphia for the construction and development of subways for transit purposes or for the construction of wharves and docks, or the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of a system of wharves and docks, as public improvements owned or to be owned by said city and county of Philadelphia, and which shall yield to the city and county of Philadelphia current net revenue in excess of the interest on said debt or debts and of the annual installments necessary for the cancellation of said debt or debts, may be excluded in ascertaining the power of the city and county of Philadelphia to become otherwise indebted: Provided, That a sinking fund for their cancellation shall be established and maintained.

"SEA FRUIT" IS DELICIOUS

Many Little Shellfish of the Mediterranean of Which the French Make Good Use.

Fruits de mer ("sea fruit"), this is the comprehensive name by which the numerous little shellfish of the Mediterranean are known; the term, affectionate if you will, which the French use in speaking of these contributions of the sea which are at their best in Marseilles and all along the Riviera, over the border into sunny Italy

Marseilles is the great fish market of southern France and Leghorn of northern Italy, while Naples of course is the center for southern Italy. Along the quays of all three cities an epicure on his rambles will find much of interest and many a new sensation for his palate.

Bouillabaisse, even before it was made famous in literature by Thackeray, was considered the piece de resistance of southern France and matelotte de poisson a close second But for my part the most luscious morsels of the fruits of the blue Mediterranean are the little shellfish which are sold from the booths along the quays or in the open air kitchens where amid odors of garlic and oil, a whiff of the salt air from the sea and of great masses of wet seaweed upon which the shellfish are temptingly arranged make the nostrils dilate even as the sight of the seductive wares tickle the palate and force one to stop and investigate—Epicure

An Eskimo's Dwelling.

We do not look for any great amount of inventive genius among the Esquimaus, but for years they have employed a rather complete respirator, used in the preparation and taking of a vapor bath, as a means of protection from the dense smoke. This Esquimau respirator is a little basket woven of twisted strands of fine grass It is placed with its shallow side against the mouth, and a wooden peg, which arises from the center of the basket, is held between the teeth. For this purpose water is evaporated over a big fire in a very low hut, which is tightly closed to keep in the heat In this stifling atmosphere the employment of a respirator is absolutely necessary

Changing Hospital Character.

The question in hospitals has gradually become not "Is this patient poor enough to be admitted to the hospital?" but "Is he ill enough, or is his illness of the kind to require the special services which the hospital is organized to render?"—British Medical Journal.

Home Treatment for Tuberculosis

Many people have cured themselves of Tuberculosis by a very simple, inexpensive home method—fresh air, careful diet and Eckman's Alterative.

This Alterative is not a new medicine. It has been conquering tuberculosis for several years, cures resulting after other methods had failed.

Think what this means. No specialist's fees; no sanatorium charges; no traveling expenses.

Eckman's Alterative has cured many people at home, where their dear ones encourage them and give them that tender care which money cannot buy.

After you have thoroughly investigated our affidavits and testimonials—feeling sure in your own mind that if Eckman's Alterative has cured so many others, it surely must help you—start taking the Alterative. Your improvement should be gradual, but certain.

If you have been faithful to Eckman's Alterative, you will be amazed at your improvement. A statement from one who knows follows:—

220 So. 4th St., Colwyn, (Darby) Pa.

Gentlemen: "For four years I was troubled with cough, which gradually became worse; I had night sweats and pains in my chest. I was losing my appetite and had become so thin and weak I could not attend to my household duties. A physician pronounced my case Consumption Not being satisfied, I was examined by the physicians of the Polyclinic Hospital; they also pronounced the disease Consumption, which was proven later, by an examination of sputum, as Tuberculosis Bacilli was found. I was ordered to a Consumptive Hospital. My nephew would not allow me to go until I had tried Eckman's Alterative Before I had taken the medicine three weeks I had marked relief; night sweats ceased; pain in the breast relieved; cough became loose and easy; fever left me and I commenced getting well. My health became normal. I am in excellent health now and have been completely cured for ten years. I cordially recommend it."

GREENE WAS A LUCKY MAN

His Lost Five Dollar Bill Found in Two Places, and His Conscience Elastic.

"If anybody but Greene had told me this I wouldn't have believed it, and I wouldn't have believed him if it had happened to anybody but Greene," said the man. "The other day Greene lost five dollars When he got home he began to figure out where he might have lost it. There was a chance every time he took out his pocketbook. He had had his pocketbook in his hand, he remembered, when he left the drug store at One Hundred and Fourth street, and again when he left the florist's at One Hundred and First street.

"In order to expedite the search Greene telephoned the news of his loss to the druggist. The druggist was very accommodating. He promised to put the whole drug store force on the job and to telephone back the result as soon as the premises had been thoroughly searched.

"While waiting for a message from the druggist Greene telephoned to the florist, and received similar assurances of co-operation. In about five minutes the druggist called up. The five dollars had been found lying under the edge of a dry goods box on the pavement and would be handed over to Greene.

"Greene jumped into his coat and grabbed his hat, but before he got to the door the florist telephoned that the five dollars had been found in the ash can just outside his door, and would be held against all comers until Greene called for it. Greene's conscience is of the India rubber variety, so he had no compunctions about collecting the five dollars from both druggist and florist. I'll bet that wouldn't happen to anybody else on earth but Greene."

CURIOUS TRAITS OF A...IALS

Peculiar Habits of Flies, Hens, Mice, Snakes and Goldfish, Some of Them Unexplainable.

A fly on a window pane will crawl to the top, fly back to the bottom and crawl up again. This order is seldom reversed. Why, no one knows, it is on record that a fly crawled up a window pane thirty-two times, returning each time a-wing.

Hens scratch for food with the sun behind them, the reason being that the rays reflect on the minute particles A blind hen will pick grain and not miss a kernel.

Cats seldom lie with their feet to the fire. Usually they lie on the left side. Dogs lie with their fore paws to the fire

A mouse will ignore a food supply sufficient for a meal and run great risks to nibble at a wholesale supply, says the Milwaukee Sentinel. It will hide at the source of food supply and not depart therefrom until actually disturbed. It isn't true that a mouse runs to a hole at the first alarm

Find a harmless little snake the length of a lead pencil and provide a box for it in the house, visit it daily, and at the end of three months it will crawl to you for food

Goldfish usually swim around a globe to the right. They can be taught to take a fly out of the hand in six weeks' time The presence of other fish in the globe is generally ignored by goldfish. Drop a piece of chip on the surface of the water and it will frighten a fish.

MISS DOROTHY IS "COMMON"

Her Friendliness Was the Kind That Made People Feel at Home With Her.

When people asked Mrs Hobart which of the two Lombards she liked the better, she was always prompt to reply. 'I like em both first-rate, but Miss Dorothy's my favorite, because she's so common. Miss Mary is different.'

"Common!' echoed the summer boarder to whom Mrs. Hobart first made this statement "What do you mean?"

"Why, I mean common," repeated Mrs Hobart with firmness, "like folks. What else does common mean, I'd be glad to know? One day they came to see me together, and I hadn't more'n sat down with em before I heard something on the stove sizzling the way they do when they've got all but to the top and are just about ready to surge over. I said, 'Excuse me a minute, and ran, for I don't let things boil over on my stove, not if 'twas kings and queens in the sitting room.

"When I came back, they sat here, looking pretty as roses, both of 'em. And Miss Mary said, in that sweet voice of hers, gazing out over the hen yard, 'What a pleasant view you have, Mrs Hobart?

"Now that was real society tact, I s'pose, for the window she'd chosen don't command any view beyond the hen yard but the barn. But Miss Dorothy, bless her little heart, looked right at me, with her eyes all twinkly, and she said, 'O, I hope it didn't boil over, Mrs. Hobart, and I felt at home with her right off."—Youth's Companion.

Question Too Personal.

"I had a mighty queer surprise this morning," remarked a local stock broker. "I put on my last year's suit and in one of the trousers' pockets I found a big roll of bills which I had entirely forgotten."

"Were any of them receipted?" asked a listener who seemed to be a pessimist.

And the temperature dropped immediately to a point where everybody felt comfortable.

Quaker Slang.

A visitor to Philadelphia, unfamiliar with the garb of the Society of Friends, was much interested in two demure and placid Quakeresses who took seats directly behind her in the Broad street station. After a few minutes' silence she was somewhat startled to hear a gentle voice inquire: "Sister Kate, will thee go to the counter and have a milk punch on me?"—Lippincott's.

Is Happy Now.

"Gee, ain't it a great relief when you've been suffering from toothache to summon up your courage and go to a dentist and have it over with!"

SHE SUFFERED FIVE YEARS

Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Erie, Pa.—"I suffered for five years from female troubles and at last was almost helpless. I went to three doctors and they did me no good, so my sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and when I had taken only two bottles I could see a big change, so I took six bottles and I am now strong and well again. I don't know how to express my thanks for the good it has done me and I hope all suffering women will give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It was worth its weight in gold."—Mrs. J. P. ENDLICH, R. F. D. No. 7, Erie, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. It is free and always helpful.

HUSSEY-BINNS EMPLOYES WILL RETURN TO WORK

Agreement Reached and Strikers Will Report for Duty

VOTE TAKEN AT MEETING

Misunderstandings Seem to Have Been Cause of the Whole Affair

After being on strike three days because of contentions with the factory head originating it seems from misunderstanding Hussey- Binns Shovel company employees will return to work Thursday morning. Terms have been reached by a committee from the workmen and Superintendent Frank M. Haines, all that was required being a little explanation on both sides. William Eckel, over whom the strike was declared because of his discharge from the position of foreman, will not be reinstated but it is expected the full force of men will return to their forges and tools. About the only tangible evidence of the strike is that of a union formed by the shovel workers at the instance of organizers in this vicinity. When it was reported that double time duty was to be required of the men rumors spread rapidly, it seems and Foreman Eckel's discharge lent them force This occasioned a strike On Monday after the strike was clearly on a committee to interview the superintendent was appointed from the workmen. This committee has been practically in charge of the affair With a little investigating, it is said, its members ascertained that misstatements had been made. Superintendent Haines told them plainly to set at rest their vague fears, that the men would not be put on double time to increase the capacity or decrease the expenses, and to prove his word was good offered to sign a yearly contract with any or all. As for the Eckel matter he stated that was really a private affair.

Tuesday afternoon the workmen held a meeting when a vote was taken to return to work, after full reports had been heard from the committee. Organizers John Ferry of Charleroi and William Burke of Pittsburg were present and also Thomas Flynn of the American Federation of Labor. The union will be affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and will be maintained. Mr. Flynn pointed out the advantages of being organized not for the purpose of fighting the employers, he said, but for the purpose of bettering conditions of the men and the factory owners. He said he believed that there would be much greater demand for shovels bearing the union stamp Today is being occupied by Superintendent Haines in putting matters in shape for the return of the men Thursday morning.

CLAIMS LIBRARY IS BENEFIT TO PUBLIC

North Charleroi Organization to Oppose Attempt of Borough to Collect Taxes From Them

MASTERPIECES THERE; UP TO THE PEOPLE TO READ

The Citizens Library Association of Fallowfield township, through its attorney has filed an answer to the suit of the Borough of North Charleroi to recover taxes for three years on property at North Charleroi. In the answer made by Richard A Roberts, president of the board of directors of the library association, he sets forth that the library is a charitable institution and has no right to pay taxes

It is claimed in the answer of the library association that the library is maintained for the purpose of disseminating useful knowledge by means of a library, reading rooms, public lectures, literary exercises and entertainments. It has no capital stock and its members do not now nor ever have derived any profits from its business. Its earnings after deducting expenses, have always been applied and are now applied to the maintenance of the purpose for which it was created.

When the Citizens Library of Fallowfield township was incorporated in 1885, Lock No 4 was as a "Sweet Auburn, loviest village of the plain." but in recent years it has become more like the "deserted village" so beautifully depicted by Oliver Goldsmith's poem. The town seems to be past that age when the citizens delighted in reading the world's masterpieces of literature and discussing the characters in literary societies; now it is the age of Nick Carter and how he located the Mc[illegible] shooting the night watchman and how Frank Merriwell won the game for Fairhaven bl striking out 20 opposing batsmen.

For the entertainment and pleasure of the people the Citizens Library Association of Falowfield township was formed with John Conrad, of Lock No. 4; Thomas McGowan now deceased; Theodore J. Allen, formerly of Lock No. 4, but now of Charleroi, and C. B Copeland, as incorporators. The association was incorporated under Judge George S. Hart in 1885. The first board of directors was composed of T. J. Allen, now of Charleroi; Samuel C. Swabe, now deceased; Thomas McGowan, now deceased; Smitth Colvin, now deceased; and Joseph R. Ryan, now deceased.

These men with a spirit of civic pride started the organization with a library of 574 volumes, principally the masterpieces of the world's literature. There was no charge made for the books and there was but a small charge for the use of the auditorium, just enough to cover the expenses of maintenance. Public spirited citizens that donated liberally to the association were elected as members of the association.

REPENTS OF HIS VISIT TO FARM

Charleroi Foreigner Promises Not to Go Back if Only Released

Thomas Petroshak, a foreigner of Charleroi repented for his misdeeds on the farm of I. V Kinder near Charleroi, when he had suit brought against him by Warren Kinder fixed up Tuesday. The affair was terminated by an understanding reached at the county seat. Petroshak was released on probation after he had paid the costs of the affair, and agreed not to insert his unseemly presence upon the Kinder farm again otherwise the case would be opened up. The charge against him was maliciously pointing fire arms

BENTLEYVILLE MAN OUT FOR CORONER

In this issue appears the announcement of Hudson C. Crouch of Bentleyville, who is announced as a Republican candidate for the office of county corner.

Mr. Crouch has held a responsible position with the Miners Supply company No 3 for more than two years and has severed his connections and will spend the next six weeks looking after Republican votes. He has a wide acquaintance, having been in the hotel business for over twenty years and will be remembered by the merchants and business men of Washington county as Mercantile Appraiser, six years ago. Mr. Crouch has been a life long Republican, is a man of mature years and fair judgment As the time is short he will not be able to meet all of his friends, personally but he wishes to be remembered at the primaries on September 30. If nominated and elected he promises to fill the office honestly and to the best of his ability.

The petition filed by Mr. Crouch contained the names of sixty prominent residents of his home town.

Misses Helen and Lottie Michiner, Minnie and Elizabeth Elliott, Adele Heupel, Jessie and Anna Watson, Mary Glunt and Bethel Bowman have gone to Bentleyville where they will spend two weeks' at the campground.

ANNIVERSARY IS CELEBRATED

Charleroi Members of Protected Home Circle Take Trip to McKeesport

A number of members of Charleroi Circle, No. 303, Protected Home Circle made a trip to McKeesport in celebration of the silver anniversary of the founding of the order Tuesday evening, where they were royally entertained by the members of the Vigilant lodge at the latter place.

Leaving Charleroi at 5 o'clock on cars to Monessen the party smaller than was expected, owing to the threatening weather, took the 6 o'clock train at Monessen and arrived in McKeesport just in time for the beginning of a special program which was arranged there. The Charleroi circle members were augmented by a number of Monesser and Donora people. Grand lodge officers were present and a musical and literary program was rendered.

School Board Prepared for Opening of Schools Latter Part of Month

There were not enough members present at the scheduled meeting of the Charleroi School board Tuesday evening and a postponement of what would probably have been the last session before the beginning of school was made necessary. Prof. James G. Pentz is now getting matters in shape for school to begin. He will have some announcements to make within a few days The teachers' examination was given Tuesday at School hall and there were six teachers took them.

STILL HAVE HOPES FOR BOULEVARD

Thought That River Road Will be Among First Taken Up

OVER THE NATIONAL PIKE

Charleroi and Monongahela valley people generally are still of the belief that a river boulevard will be one of the early matters considered by Commissioner E. M. Bigelow of the State Highway department. The river boulevard as outlined in the comprehensive State plan is the heart's desire of the people who reside along the valley and the State engineers realize it's need.

Commissioners Bigelow was in Washington and Fayette counties this week. He did not investigate all of the proposed river boulevard route, but it is stated he will return at a later date to go over it.

While at Washington and Uniontown he mentioned the need of improvement of the national pike and it is likely this will be among the first work to be done by the State. With Commissioner Bigelow on his trip are a number of State engineers who will have charge of the construction work on the new roads.

TENDERED SURPRISE ON HER BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Joseph Mounchecourt was tendered a pleasant surprise Tuesday evening in honor of her birthday. Gathering at her home on Third street her friends suddenly made themselves known. Recovering from her astonishment caused by the sudden appearance of so many of her close friends Mrs. Mounchecourt proved a charming hostess. Diversions were provided in the way of music, dancing and euchre. Beautiful favors were awarded.

Business Suspended by Reason of Business Men's Picnic

MITCHELL ROASTS THE OX

"Critter" Duly Prepared for Onslaught of Hungry Picnicers

Charleroi presents a deserted appearance today Stores are closed and with the business men and their friends at their annual picnic at Eldora Park there is an entire suspension of trade. It is a day of enjoyment and one which the business men are taking full advantage of.

True to his word the weather man provided the proper kind of weather. Neither too cool nor excessively warm the weather is "just right" and makes a day at the park all the more to be enjoyed

Thomas Mitchell the well known caterer of Washington, who by the way is a candidate for county commissioner arrived on the scene last night to roast the ox in preparation for the onslaught of hungry picnicers today About noon the principal part of the crowd began to arrive and fill the park.

Candidates from all over the county, in response to a special invitation from the Charleroi business men, with affable smiles and ready hand-shakes, are there circulating among the voters. They too are to come in for their share of the ox and the hunger of candidates is proverbial.

This afternoon the sports and trapeze performance will be features. Of course the park amusements, the roller coaster, the merry-go-round and the bamboo slide will prove attractive to the wives and children of the business men, as well as the business men themselves and their friends.

The picnic is an annual event held by the Charleroi Business Men's association at Eldora Park, and this year's affair promises to eclipse any previous event.

FRICK ENGINEERS GET SEND-OFF

In honor of the H. C. Frick civil engineers employed in this section, a picnic was given at Eldora Park Tuesday evening by a number of Charleroi young women. The party left for the park on the 6:15 car, taking along baskets of dainties prepared by the young women. A picnic supper was served. The evening was spent "tripping the light fantastic" and the roller coaster came into large demand also. Those composing the party were Misses Zellers, Mangan, Dainty, Wilson and Calvert of Charleroi, Miss Elliott of Monessen and Miss Mame Thornton of Brownsville The young engineers in the party were Messrs Thompson, Wahbeshav, King, Jenkins, Trout, Finch, Patterson and Smith. The engineering corps which has been stationed here for some time will leave this vicinity soon.

PERSONAL CITIZENSHIP.

It has been remarked that Rev. Billy Sunday's great success in converting men at his revivals lies in his ability to impress his hearers with their personal responsibility for the sins and evils that exist. The comfortable, well-to-do citizen, who never attends the suggestion caucus or the primary elections, deplores municipal misgovernment and the evil conditions that grow out of it, but he seldom realizes that he and his class alone are responsible for the civic and social evils that exist. Ministers of the gospel can preach about Christian citizenship and civic duty in the abstract way indefinitely without arousing their hearers to a sense of responsibility, but when a preacher of forceful bearing and fearless nature hurls accusations into the teeth of his hearers, which the latter know to be true, and drives the statement home with the awful consequences, then his auditors sit up and take notice.

It is well for every citizen to remember his personal responsibility It is the indifference of the busy respectable class that permits the rule and conduct of municipalities to pass into the hands of the corrupt and crooked It is also well to remember that pretty near all the cities get exactly the kind of government they want, and if conditions are bad it is because they are permitted to be so by the citizens of that community. Charleroi will elect four councilmen and seven school directors this fall, and it is incumbent upon all good citizens of all parties to see to it that good men are placed in nomination. Then, whichever the way the elections go there can be no fears as to the future conduct of these important branches of local government.

SAW WOOD.

It is pretty evident that from this time on the industrial and social welfare of the country must depend upon individual action. Policies, issues and great questions whose settement is designed to produce changes and affect large elements of the people may be said to no longer exist, or to have been threshed out to exhaustion, so that practically nothing in the way of National questions remain for the people to solve except their individual salvation and welfare.

That being the case it is the duty of each individual to say nothing and saw wood With each person going ahead and doing the best he or she can, determined to work out their own salvation instead of waiting, agitating and hoping for some one else to help them along on the way, a better order of affairs will prevail The [illegible] for each to follow is, do not wait for someone else to do something but do something yourself. Do the things that are at hand and do them well, and then look for something else to do It will be surprising with such effort how readily opportunities present themselves There's lots of ground yet to cultivate, waste resources to be utilized, as well as wasteful habits and indolence to be avoided. When the whole population with one impulse begins to say nothing and saw wood, one of those waves of National prosperity that from time to time sweep the country will have been started The only thing for each and every one to do now is to saw wood

"I was at Cape May a few years ago spending the season," said a Charleroi citizen in a conversation where politics was the topic, "and I saw a sample of how they do things down in Jersey. While I was there the municipal election was held, and I got to know a lot of 'the boys' at a cigar store where the politicians as well as many of the male guests of the town loafed. The proprietor of the cigar store was one of the political leaders and the next day after election I noticed a long string of negroes filing in the front door of the store and passing out the back door.

"'What are these fellows doing here?' I asked.

"'Geting their pay,' the proprietor replied.

"'Pay, for what?'

"'For election. If things go all right we line them up after the election and pay them a dollar each If things go wrong they get nothing. We never pay for work until the goods are delivered.'"

"While I was spending my vacation up State a funny incident occurred," remarked a well known resident the other day. "I was invited to the house of an old-time acquaintance for dinner, and just before the meal was announced a former acquaintance of the host, who was visiting in the community, dropped in. The latter who was a middle aged man had left the country for the west a number of years ago, and this was the first visit east since his departure He proved to be hard of hearing, and conversation was exceedingly difficult [illegible] on the caller staying for dinner, and after we were seated the host said:

"'Mr——, will you ask a blessing?'

"'Hey?' the visitor queried.

"'Will you ask a blessing?' the host repeated

"'You'll have to speak a little louder, was the reply, 'I'm so d—— deaf that I can't hear a word unless you holler'

"It is needless to say that the request was adroitly switched to a remark about the weather."

DISSERTATION ON THE SHIRT

Writer Uncorks Vials of Wrath in a Few Indictments of Uncomfortable Modern Garment.

The onward march of civilization has its obstacles

Shirts being made for man and not man for shirts every time a man gets a new shirt or one comes back from the laundry the more uplift needs the application of the safety brake and the emergency clutch to keep us from dropping into the cellar again

Shirts are made of various kinds of materials After the sewing is finished they are left for a few hours in a strong mixture of glue and concrete This fastens the back to the bosom and sticks the sleeves together. Buttonholes are then made in the neckband, and the band is then steeped in cement so that the buttonholes cannot be opened. The bosom is then adorned with buttons These buttons are sewed on with one weak thread, so that when you try to button the shirt, after having pried it apart with a paper knife and strong language, the buttons will fly away merrily

Shirts that are laundered are always sent back with the lower button buttoned in, and all the buttonholes glued tight

Dress shirts are made with veneered bosoms, with little round holes where the studs are only supposed to be placed These bosoms are absolutely inflexible, and the studs cannot be inserted without the aid of a sledge hammer, which is damaging to the disposition.

The man who will invent a buttonless shirt, which cannot be starched in the neckband, will earn a monument which will be illuminated at night.—Chicago Evening Post.

THERE THE SAUSAGE IS HOLY

Highest Aim of Good German Is to Evolve a New Brand of "Wurst."

While in this country one may purchase many varieties of sausage, it is to Westphalia, Prussia, that we must look for the sausage in all its glory, says Harper's Weekly. There, it is said, a trader will name you no fewer than four hundred different kinds, and they present a bewildering array of divers substances in their composition

At a German sausage exhibition held not so long ago at Berne, in Switzerland, there were displayed 1,785 kinds of sausage from various countries It is said that a good German would rather invent a new sausage than anything else At any rate there is told the story of the young Prussian who, though he had received an expensive training as a chemist, shut himself up in his laboratory and, instead of devising a new dye, safety match, motor engine, explosive, aeroplane or photographic lens, took pork, veal, olives, pepper, fennel, old wine, cheese, apples, cinnamon and herrings' roes, and from them evolved a wonderful and totally original "wurst," the best of its kind He has amassed a considerable fortune from its sale.

Sherbet at Its Best.

A sherbet made of extract of violets was much esteemed in the east, and Mohammed is reported to have said of it that it surpassed all other extracts. In some part of Europe it is customary to mingle violets, roses, and lime blossoms with preserves to add a flower element to the fruity flavor. In Egypt and Turkey violets are used in making sherbets as mint is employed in juleps in Kentucky.

They Insisted on Brevity.

The Spartans were distinguished for the brevity and conciseness of their speech. On one occasion during a terrible famine the inhabitants of an island in the Aegean sea sent an ambassador to Sparta, who made a speech imploring its aid. He had hardly finished before the Spartans sent him back these words, "We did not understand the end of your speech and have forgotten the beginning."

The poor, starving people chose another spokesman and impressed upon him to make his request as brief as possible. He therefore took with him a quantity of sacks, opened one before the assembly and said simply, "It is empty; fill it."

The sack was filled as well as the others, but the chief of the assembly said as he dismissed the ambassador, loaded with meal, It wasn't necessary to inform us that the sack was empty. We saw it ourselves Neither was it necessary to request us to fill it. We should have done it on our own account. Be less long winded next time."

Just What He Wanted

The superintendent of the capitol and its grounds at Washington was walking along one of the corridors in the house office building one day when a greenhorn congressman, stewing with rage, grabbed him by the sleeve.

"What's the matter?" asked the superintendent, observing the man's emotion.

"Matter!" shouted the congressman. "Why, when I went into my office last evening there was a brand new typewriter on the desk. Now it's gone. You've got a lot of thieves around here."

The official walked into the office and without a word lifted the trap cabinet of the desk and brought the typewriter into view

"Fine!" commented the congressman "Now, have you got a place like that in here for my use when troublesome constituents knock on the door?"—Washington Star

Punctuation In Piano Playing.

A joke is going the rounds of the press about the girl whose music teacher wished to compliment her, but of whom he could only say that she played the rests excellently This is, however, real praise of a sort, for it is not every young student of music who is careful about playing the rests well Indeed, a great many players seem to forget that the rests are just as much of the piece as is the punctuation in a sentence Nowadays people do not put in so much punctuation as they used to do, but the pauses in the voice are there just the same and are readily understood by good readers and always regarded. The rests in music are like the pauses in reading that are needed to give expression to the sentences If the player slights the rests or extends them too long the whole effect of the musical sentence is spoiled. —Christian Science Monitor.

Feet Versus the Pen.

In speaking of personal recollections of Dion Boucicault, Henry Miller dwells upon his superb skill as a stage director and tells of the following incident, which occurred during his first rehearsal under Boucicault

"I went to him direct from Augustin Daly's management. Daly coached his players to cross and recross the stage during the progress of the play, with the idea that this continual moving about of the actors created dramatic action During my first rehearsal I made a 'Daly cross' as I spoke one of my lines

"'Why did you do that?' Boucicault asked in his quaint, quizzical manner.

"I explained that I imagined it would keep the scene moving

"'Thanks, my boy,' said Boucicault dryly, 'but if I cannot interest the audience with my pen I don't think you can with your feet.'"

Bulldogs and Bulls.

Bulldog is so called because of his native antipathy to the bull. A thoroughbred bull pup as young as six months the first time he beholds a bull will run at the head, which is his invariable point of attack, and, seizing the horned beast by the lip, tongue or eye, hang on despite every attempt to detach him. The dog will even suffer himself to be killed or dismembered rather than relax his hold.—New York Telegram.

Protest.

"I beg pardon," said the new arrival, "but it seems to me it's excessively warm here."

"Eh! What?" snorted Satan. "Evidently you forget where you are. This place is meant to be warm."

Cupid Keeps Busy.

There are about 3,000 weddings every 24 hours, taking the entire world into consideration.

Young Girl's Brave Act.

Remarkable bravery and presence of mind were displayed lately by Gwennie Franklin, aged 16, of New York, when she saved two boys from being burned to death. Half a dozen youngsters bedecked in war costumes of Indians were playing around a "council fire" in a vacant lot when George McCullough, aged six, got too close to the fire, and his clothes became ignited. His brother, Alexander, a year older, tried to beat out the flames and the fire spread to his clothing. The girl leaning out of the window of her home saw the accident, and the two brothers rolling on the ground. She ran out of doors, leaped over a fence and holding first one boy and then the other, heaped sand over them till the fire was extinguished. Both boys were unconscious, but not seriously injured.

Various Uses for the Aloe.

In Africa the leaves of certain species of aloe provide material for bowstrings, hammocks, fishing lines and ropes. With the Mohammedans the aloe means much. For instance, those who have returned from a pilgrimage to Mecca hang it over their doors, as a sign that they have made the great journey.

Proposed amendments to the Constitution submitted to the citizens of this Commonwealth for their approval or rejection, by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and published by order of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, in pursuance of Article XVIII of the Constitution.

Number One.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, so as to consolidate the courts of common pleas of Allegheny County.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby, proposed, in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:—

That section six of article five be amended, by striking out the said section, and inserting in place thereof the following:

Section 6. In the county of Philadelphia all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the district courts and courts of common pleas, subject to such changes as may be made by this Constitution or by law, shall be in Philadelphia vested in five distinct and separate courts of equal and co-ordinate jurisdiction, composed of three judges each. The said courts in Philadelphia shall be d-signated respectively as the court of common pleas number one, number two, number three, number four, and number five, but the number of said courts may be by law increased, from time to time, and shall be in like manner designated by successive numbers. The number of judges in any of said courts, or in any county where the establishment of an additional court may be authorized by law, may be increased, from time to time, and whenever such increase shall amount in the whole to three, such three judges shall compose a distinct and separate court as aforesaid, which shall be numbered as aforesaid. In Philadelphia all suits shall be instituted in the said courts of common pleas without designating the number of the said court, and the several courts shall distribute and apportion the business among them in such manner as shall be provided by rules of court, and each court, to which any suit shall be thus assigned, shall have exclusive jurisdiction thereof, subject to change of venue, as shall be provided by law.

In the county of Allegheny all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the several numbered courts of common pleas shall be vested in one court of common pleas, composed of all the judges in commission in said courts. Such jurisdiction and powers shall extend to all proceedings at law and in equity which shall have been instituted in the several numbered courts, and shall be subject to such changes as may be made by law, and subject to change of venue as provided by law. The president judge of said court shall be selected as provided by law. The number of judges in said court may be by law increased from time to time. This amendment shall take effect on the first day of January succeeding its adoption.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to section eight, article nine, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:—

Amendment to Article Nine, Section Eight.

Section 2. Amend section eight, article nine, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:—

"Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law; but any city, the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of such assessed valuation, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum, in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation," so as to read as follows:—

Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law; but any city, the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of such assessed valuation, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum, in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation, except that any debt or debts hereinafter incurred by the city and county of Philadelphia for the construction and development of subways for transit purposes, or for the construction of wharves and docks, or the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of a system of wharves and docks, as public improvements, owned or to be owned by said city and county of Philadelphia, and which shall yield to the city and county of Philadelphia current net revenue in excess of the interest on said debt or debts and of the annual installments necessary for the cancellation of said debt or debts, may be excluded in ascertaining the power of the city and county of Philadelphia to become otherwise indebted: Provided, That a sinking fund for their cancellation shall be established and maintained.

"SEA FRUIT" IS DELICIOUS

Many Little Shellfish of the Mediterranean of Which the French Make Good Use.

Fruits de mer ("sea fruit"), this is the comprehensive name by which the numerous little shellfish of the Mediterranean are known; the term, affectionate if you will, which the French use in speaking of these contributions of the sea which are at their best in Marseilles and all along the Riviera, over the border into sunny Italy.

Marseilles is the great fish market of southern France and Leghorn of northern Italy, while Naples of course is the center for southern Italy. Along the quays of all three cities an epicure on his rambles will find much of interest and many a new sensation for his palate.

Bouillabaisse, even before it was made famous in literature by Thackeray, was considered the piece de resistance of southern France and matelotte de poisson a close second. But for my part the most luscious morsels of the fruits of the blue Mediterranean are the little shellfish which are sold from the booths along the quays or in the open air kitchens where amid odors of garlic and oil, a whiff of the salt air from the sea and of great mass[illegible] upon which the shellfish are temptingly arranged make the nostrils dilate even as the sight of the seductive wares tickle the palate and force one to stop and investigate.—Epicure.

An Eskimo's Dwelling.

We do not look for any great amount of inventive genius among the Esquimaus, but for years they have employed a rather complete respirator, used in the preparation and taking of a vapor bath, as a means of protection from the dense smoke. This Esquimau respirator is a little basket woven of twisted strands of fine grass. It is placed with its shallow side against the mouth, and a wooden peg, which arises from the center of the basket, is held between the teeth. For this purpose water is evaporated over a big fire in a very low hut, which is tightly closed to keep in the heat. In this stifling atmosphere the employment of a respirator is absolutely necessary.

Changing Hospital Character.

The question in hospitals has gradually become not "Is this patient poor enough to be admitted to the hospital?" but "Is he ill enough, or is his illness of the kind to require the special services which the hospital is organized to render?"—British Medical Journal.

Home Treatment for Tuberculosis

Many people have cured themselves of Tuberculosis by a very simple, inexpensive home method—fresh air, careful diet and Eckman's Alterative.

This Alterative is not a new medicine. It has been conquering tuberculosis for several years, cures resulting after other methods had failed.

Think what this means. No specialist's fees; no sanatorium charges; no traveling expenses.

Eckman's Alterative has cured many people at home, where their dear ones encourage them and give them that tender care which money cannot buy.

After you have thoroughly investigated our affidavits and testimonials—feeling sure in your own mind that if Eckman's Alterative has cured so many others, it surely must help you—start taking the Alterative. Your improvement should be gradual, but certain.

If you have been faithful to Eckman's Alterative, you will be amazed at your improvement. A statement from one who knows follows:—

220 So. 4th St., Colwyn, (Darby) Pa.

Gentlemen: "For four years I was troubled with cough, which gradually became worse; I had night sweats and pains in my chest. I was losing my appetite and had become so thin and weak I could not attend to my household duties. A physician pronounced my case Consumption. Not being satisfied, I was examined by the physicians of the Polyclinic Hospital; they also pronounced the disease Consumption, which was proven later, by an examination of sputum, as Tuberculosis Bacilli was found. I was ordered to a Consumptive Hospital. My nephew would not allow me to go until I had tried Eckman's Alterative. Before I had taken the medicine three weeks I had marked relief; night sweats ceased; pain in the breast relieved; cough became loose and easy; fever left me and I commenced getting well. My health became normal. I am in excellent health now and have been completely cured for ten years. I strongly recommend it."

GREENE WAS A LUCKY MAN

His Lost Five Dollar Bill Found in Two Places, and His Conscience Elastic.

"If anybody but Greene had told me this I wouldn't have believed it, and I wouldn't have believed him if it had happened to anybody but Greene," said the man. "The other day Greene lost five dollars. When he got home he began to figure out where he might have lost it. There was a chance every time he took out his pocketbook. He had had his pocketbook in his hand, he remembered, when he left the drug store at One Hundred and Fourth street, and again when he left the florist's at One Hundred and First street.

"In order to expedite the search Greene telephoned the news of his loss to the druggist. The druggist was very accommodating. He promised to put the whole drug store force on the job and to telephone back the result as soon as the premises had been thoroughly searched.

"While waiting for a message from the druggist Greene telephoned to the florist, and received similar assurances of co-operation. In about five minutes the druggist called up. The five dollars had been found lying under the edge of a dry goods box on the pavement and would be handed over to Greene.

"Greene jumped into his coat and grabbed his hat, but before he got to the door the florist telephoned that the five dollars had been found in the ash can just outside his door, and would be held against all comers until Greene called for it. Greene's conscience is of the India rubber variety, so he had no compunctions about collecting the five dollars from both druggist and florist. I'll bet that wouldn't happen to anybody else on earth but Greene."

CURIOUS TRAITS OF ANIMALS

Peculiar Habits of Flies, Hens, Mice, Snakes and Goldfish, Some of Them Unexplainable.

A fly on a window pane will crawl to the top, fly back to the bottom and crawl up again. This order is seldom reversed. Why, no one knows, it is on record that a fly crawled up a window pane thirty-two times, returning each time a-wing.

Hens scratch for food with the sun behind them, the reason being that the rays reflect on the minute particles. A blind hen will pick grain and not miss a kernel.

Cats seldom lie with their feet to the fire. Usually they lie on the left side. Dogs lie with their fore paws to the fire.

A mouse will ignore a food supply sufficient for a meal and run great risks to nibble at a wholesale supply, says the Milwaukee Sentinel. It will hide at the source of food supply and not depart therefrom until actually disturbed. It isn't true that a mouse runs to a hole at the first alarm.

Find a harmless little snake the length of a lead pencil and provide a box for it in the house, visit it daily, and at the end of three months it will crawl to you for food.

Goldfish usually swim around a globe to the right. They can be taught to take a fly out of the hand in six weeks' time. The presence of other fish in the globe is generally ignored by goldfish. Drop a piece of chip on the surface of the water and it will frighten a fish.

MISS DOROTHY IS "COMMON"

Her Friendliness Was the Kind That Made People Feel at Home With Her.

When people asked Mrs. Hobart which of the two Lombards she liked the better, she was always prompt to reply. "I like 'em both first-rate, but Miss Dorothy's my favorite, because she's so common. Miss Mary is different."

"Common!" echoed the summer bourder to whom Mrs. Hobart first made this statement. "What do you mean?"

"Why, I mean common," repeated Mrs. Hobart with firmness, "like folks. What else does common mean, I'd be glad to know? One day they came to see me together, and I hadn't more'n sat down with 'em before I heard something on the stove sizzling the way they do when they've got all but to the top and are just about ready to surge over. I said, 'Excuse me a minute,' and ran, for I don't let things boil over on my stove, not if 'twas kings and queens in the sitting room.

"When I came back, they sat here, looking pretty as roses, both of 'em. And Miss Mary said, in that sweet voice of hers, gazing out over the hen yard, 'What a pleasant view you have, Mrs. Hobart?'

"Now that was real society tact, I s'pose, for the window she'd chosen don't command any view beyond the hen yard but the barn. But Miss Dorothy, bless her little heart, looked right at me, with her eyes all twinkly, and she said, 'O, I hope it didn't boil over, Mrs. Hobart,' and I felt at home with her right off."—Youth's Companion.

Question Too Personal.

"I had a mighty queer surprise this morning," remarked a local stock broker. "I put on my last year's suit and in one of the trousers' pockets I found a big roll of bills which I had entirely forgotten."

"Were any of them receipted?" asked a listener who seemed to be a pessimist.

And the temperature dropped immediately to a point where everybody felt comfortable.

Quaker Slang.

A visitor to Philadelphia, unfamiliar with the garb of the Society of Friends, was much interested in two demure and placid Quakeresses who took seats directly behind her in the Broad street station. After a few minutes' silence she was somewhat startled to hear a gentle voice inquire: "Sister Kate, will thee go to the counter and have a milk punch on me?"—Lippincott's.

SHE SUFFERED FIVE YEARS

Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Erie, Pa.—"I suffered for five years from female troubles and at last was almost helpless. I went to three doctors and they did me no good, so my sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and when I had taken only two bottles I could see a big change, so I took six bottles and I am now strong and well again. I don't know how to express my thanks for the good it has done me and I hope all suffering women will give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It was worth its weight in gold."—Mrs. J. P. ENDLICH, R. F. D. No. 7, Erie, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. It is free and always helpful.

The Difference.

It was at an afternoon concert, and in the stalls sat a smartly dressed girl and the young man who deemed her the most precious jewel of the universe. Behind them sat a couple of the type of concert goers who came rather to discuss the audience than listen to the music.

"Look at that girl just in front of us," commented one in a very audible whisper. "She's shop assistant at L's. I should like to know what business she has at a gathering of this sort. And just look at her hat! She served me the other day with the one I am wearing, and I suppose she persuades herself that there is no difference between it and mine. I never"—

The girl in front turned with a crimson face.

"Oh, yes, madam, there's a difference," she said quietly; "mine is paid for."—London Tit-Bits.

All old soldiers are especially invited and requested to attend the meeting Saturday which is being held for their benefit. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. J. P. McKee, a well known minister Record breaking crowds are expected on Sunday and on the following Sunday, August 27, which will be the last Sunday of the meeting. Quite a number of people from Charleroi have been camping on the grounds for several weeks. People from Washington, Pittsburg, Westmoreland, Fayette counties attend these meetings. The enthusiasm shown each year increases and each year sees a larger attendance.

The meetings are in charge of the Union Holiness Association.

Phillips on Matrimony.

The late David Graham Phillips had, like many bachelors, a cynical view of matrimony. Mr. Phillips, at a reunion of Princeton's class of '87, at the Princeton club, said of marriage: "The Persians have a proverb that every young man should consider well before proposing. It runs: 'He that ventureth on matrimony is like unto one who thrusteth his hand into a sack containing many thousands of serpents and one eel. Yet, if the prophet so will it, he may draw forth the eel.'"

Origin of "Boodle."

Some of the authorities on slang words and expressions say that the word "boodle" is derived from the Dutch, and there is reason to suppose that they are in the right. It first came into common use in New York at the time of the exposure of the Tweed ring, and has ever since kept its place in the language as expressing something that no other word in the English language could bring out so well. It was also highly popular in the days of Jake Sharp and his henchmen.

QUESTION WHAT TO DO WITH JAGUARS

Harrisburg People Wonder What is to Become of Governor's Menagerie

ARE STILL HOUSED THERE

The gentleman in Douglas, Ariz., who sent a pair of well grown hungry jaguars to the Governor of Pennsylvania has embarrassed Harrisburg with his generosity. Governor Tener being out of the city, hasn't even had the trouble of inditing a note of thanks as yet, but Harrisburg has to live with the jaguars.

No one is authorized to do anything with them until the Governor returns, but everybody is hoping lustily. The prevailing guess is that the Governor will send them either to the Philadelphia Zoological Garden or to the one in Pittsburg.

Rather than have them converted into Front street pets Harrisburgers vote for Philadelphia or Pittsburg, but is is suggested that this might be an excellen time to start a zoo there.

When the suggestion of a local park zoo was originally made, the idea was to have only animals that were native to Pennsylvania, but if jaguars are to be found in Arizona and Texas now, there is every reason to believe that they may have inhabited Pennsylvania formerly.

APPLICANTS ARE ALL SHORT ON SPELLING

The Washington Reporter states that in looking over manuscripts submitted by applicants for provisional certificates in the last examinations for the year, County Superintendent L. R. Crumrine found that in spelling not one of the 37 applicants was perfect, the highest mark being 98, and the lowest 46. The superintendent had chosen 50 practical words.

In algebra also several of the applicants failed to make a satisfactory grade. The superintendent says that many of the teachers do not have a proper understanding of factoring. Many of the applicants made poor marks in arithmetic.

Mr. Crumrine has received an invitation to attend the Allegheny county teacher's institute, August 28, September 1. He expects to attend the meeting a day or two.

Radium Breezes for Gout.

Radium laden breezes are the very latest thing in the treatment of gout. One of the papers read at the German Medical congress was on the application of radium in the aerial state. Radium "emanatoria" have been established in Berlin and at Bad Homburg, and now Ems is to have one. A special apparatus in which radium is placed in a current of air is fixed in a room and all the patients have to do is to sit in the room and talk or read newspapers, or play draughts; the radium in solution in the air does the rest and affects the blood through the lungs. This treatment is especially recommended for all gouty ailments.

LIVE UNDER THE SAME ROOF

Then, and Not Until Then; Will You Become Really Acquainted With Your Friends.

Two households may stand side by side on the same street, two families live within hailing distance of one another for years in the same community, and yet have opposite tastes, sentiments and convictions. The children of each growing up together may marry and, until they reach the period of new adjustment, never suspect how antagonistic has been their early training. This is one reason why the first year of marriage is so beset with briars and thorns. Everybody knows that until people actually dwell under the same roof they do not mutually become acquainted. A single week spent with a friend at a house party does more to promote intimacy or indifference than years of superficial social intercourse.

The touch-and-go meetings incidental to teas and receptions are the merest suggestions of personality, but when one sits day after day beside the fire or at the table with a neighbor, each ceasing to be on guard, real understanding begins. Even correspondence, which to a degree is in the nature of revelation, does not make people so well acquainted and is by no means so true a test of disposition and temperament as the test of living together. During courtship and betrothal an engaged pair are on probation. Without effort each displays qualities of charm that cannot fail to be attractive. The most ordinary speech has a flavor of compliment. The future husband and wife are walking through a land of dreams. Shall the dreams come true? They surely will if on both sides there are fixed principles of honor, justice and fidelity.—Mrs. Sangster in Woman's Home Companion.

PAID TO PLAY WITH JIMMY

Lad Explains How He and His Little Mates Earned Ten Cents Apiece.

The Higgins family was gathered about the supper table, and Mr. Higgins was engaged in serving the cold ham on the pile of waiting plates. He interrupted that process long enough to address one of his young sons.

"Edward," he said, "didn't I hear you say that Jimmy Fanning was so disagreeable and quarrelsome that you were not going to play with him any more?"

"Yes, father."

"And didn't you say that all the boys at your school said the same thing?"

"Yes, father."

"How did it happen, then, that when I came home tonight I saw you and Billy and John Heald and a lot more youngsters over in the Fannings' yard?"

"Well, you see, father, we were all over to the Bacons', and Mr. Fanning came over and said he knew we didn't like to play with Jimmy, but he would give us ten cents apiece if we would go over there this afternoon and play. He says he'll give any of us a dime any time we'll come over and spend the afternoon with Jimmy."

Mr. Higgins looked incredulous till his son dug into his pocket and produced a bright, new ten-cent piece as corroborative evidence. Then he looked at his wife and smiled.

"It's a good thing Jimmy's father is well-to-do," he said. "Did you have a pleasant afternoon, Edward?"

"Well, we earned the money, all right," said Edward.—Youth's Companion.

Wanted the Day to Himself.

Nothing makes us quite so weary as these elaborate, gotten-up-ahead-of-time jokes that some people stage and spring with such a dramatic effect. Our Washington correspondent told us of one of these, the other day. A man went into the patent office, last week, and said he wanted a copyright. They steered him to the right department, and he opened up like this:

"This is Saturday, is it not? Thank you. I understand that you will not issue a copyright on Sunday?"

"No, sir. That is the rule."

"But you will issue a copyright on any other day of the week?"

"Yes, sir."

"I'm so glad. I want to get Friday copyrighted. It's my birthday, and I don't want any other fellows using it. How much will it cost?"

Light on Habits of Snakes.

The popular theories regarding the cobra's musical ear, and the snake's power of fascinating birds, are upset by a statement made the other day by Professor Barnard who has been studying this species of snake in Ceylon. The serpent's traditional love for music is a pure fable, he says. The only effect of music is to arouse the reptile's curiosity, which is excited by any loud and acute sound. The cobra protrudes its head from its burrow alike on hearing the snake charmer's flute, the rattling of a chain, or the sounds made by beating the ground with a switch. Barnard also concludes that the power of fascination upon birds is purely imaginary.

Soft-Toned Bells of China.

The natives of China use large bells of their own make in many of their temples and monasteries, writes the United States consul at Foochow. I have noticed all through Japan and China that the tone of the monastery and temple bells is very soft and smooth, due to the superior quality of the material used in their manufacture and to the absence of iron clappers, the result being a marvelous softness and mellowness of tone. The bells are never swung, being always suspended in a fixed frame, and the sound is produced by striking them on the outer edge with a wooden mallet. This makes the soft tones which are so delightfully melodious.

Idle Like the Dead.

Jeremy Taylor writes that "an idle person is the same as a dead person; both are merely passing the time."
